

Duncan McIntosh BSc, cFPSc, H BA, B Ed, MA is an experienced facilitator that has taught at the post-secondary and adult level for more than twenty years. With an extensive background that includes 4 university degrees including a Masters of Arts in Economics, Duncan has worked with many First Nations training staff and coordinating Anishinaabemowin curriculum development. Duncan has also contributed to the writing of ten advanced-level computer texts and has been responsible for curriculum development for many I.T. programs.